

AUGUSTA COLLEGE ECHO HALL ASSOCIATION MAY 2019

The Augusta College Echo Hall Association met May 2 with President Carol Williams presiding.

Following the call to order, minutes by Secretary Mary Ann Kearns from the April meeting, which had been emailed to members, were approved.

The financial report was presented by Treasurer Tay Kelsch and approved.

Jackie McMurrin reported on plans for the antique auction this summer. Storage for items was discussed but no conclusion reached.

David Laskey provided information on progress at Echo Hall including removal of chimneys and securing bids for roofing for the structure. Plans were made for the rescheduled clean-up day at Echo Hall on May 11.

Jennifer Sauers provided an update on social media reach and on interest in the newsletter.

Members who worked the Civil War Day booth reported on the day's events. ACEHA sold books written and provided by Caroline Miller and handed out info on Echo Hall.

Mary Ann Kearns gave an update on plans for the Bourbon, Barbecue and Bluegrass event. Location has been secured, sponsors solicited and some bourbon donations accepted.

Carol Williams gave an update on the capital campaign.

In new business, discussion was held on Jackie McMurrin's plans to have a booth at the Kentucky United Methodist Church annual conference. Carol will secure table top banners and brochures for her to distribute.

With no further business, the meeting was adjourned.
